

FAMILIES OF FAITH
DAY CARE
OPEN FOR ESSENTIAL WORKERS
MORE INFO

Hello Sabrina,

My name is Ronda, I am the Daycare director for Families of Faith here in Channahon. As of this weekend, over 550 centers are running under the Emergency Child Care permit and our day care is one of them. Yesterday Governor Pritzker decided there will be free day care for all essential workers.

"We have essential workers and health care professionals who can't stay home with their kids because they are heroically going out to do their jobs. They deserve to know their kids are safe and cared for in a small and affordable group setting.

Effective April 1st, all essential workers in health care, human services, essential government services & essential infrastructure now qualify for Illinois' Child Care Assistance Program, meaning the state will cover most, if not all, of the cost of care.

That includes everyone from nurses and doctors to support staff in hospitals to grocery store clerks and food producers. Full details & applications are available now on our Illinois Department of Human Services website and our state COVID-19 response website: coronavirus.illinois.gov.

These emergency child care providers are just another example of the incredible ways in which Illinoisans have stepped up to maintain normalcy where we can while we take up the fight against COVID-19. We can't thank them enough."

Could you please pass this along to our Channahon workers in need. We want to offer our services to our community before we open to anyone else.

Thank you for your corporation.
